Priceless advice. Invaluable protection.

Far from standard

Specialist insurance cover for high net worth individuals

Standard insurance policies meet the needs of most customers, but if you are a high net worth individual, chances are that 'standard' won't fully protect your valuable assets.

Your expensive technology, art, jewellery, clothes and much, much more might not be covered.

As a rough, general rule, when the value of a home's contents is more than £60,000 in total or a single item is valued over £8,000, then a standard insurance product isn't adequate.
